

IUMS Outreach Program on Food Safety and Conference on Mycotoxin

(First – Announcement, June 2014)

Faculty of Agricultural Technology,
Universitas Gadjah Mada,
Yogyakarta, Indonesia
14-15 November 2014

Background

In support of its mission to enhance the scientific background and professional effectiveness of basic and applied microbiologists, the IUMS is embarking on a program of educational outreach to developing countries and their microbiologists. The Union envisions an IUMS series of courses that will be offered to groups of microbiologists that may include graduate students, postdoctoral fellows, and practicing professionals from developing countries within a given geographic region. These will be offered periodically in various regions and on different topics of interest and importance.

The Faculty of Agricultural Technology Universitas Gadjah Mada (FTP-UGM) via its Center of Excellence on Mycotoxin Studies (CEMyCoS) in collaboration with International Life Sciences Institutes (ILSI) Southeast Asia Region, and supported by SEAMEO BIOTROP Indonesia, ISPA Italy, CBS Netherlands, Universiti Sains Malaysia (USM) Penang Malaysia, and International Society for Mycotoxicology (ISM) has the experience in Organizing "International Conference on Mycological Aspects of Food and Feed Safety" (IC-MAFFS) on 27-29 June 2013 at Universitas Gadjah Mada Yogyakarta, Indonesia. The objectives of the conferences were to share the latest science and updates, as well as to review, discuss and address important issues concerning to food safety, mycology and mycotoxin and their relation to food and feed safety aspects. This conference was attended by more than 200 scientists and practitioners from Indonesia, ASEAN countries, other Asia countries, including Japan, India and Saudi Arabia.

This year (2014) FTP UGM will take an opportunity to be the local organizer for IUMS outreach programme, with the title of the activity "IUMS Outreach Program on Food Safety and Conference on Mycotoxin". This program will be design for two days, 14-15 November 2014, held at the Faculty of Agricultural Technology UGM. This outreach program and conference, will be open for scientists from ASEAN countries, and other countries of ASIA, to participate by presenting their paper or poster. We will expect about 200 participants from all over ASEAN countries. To organize this program FTP-UGM will be supported by two related societies in Indonesia, PERMI (Indonesian Food Microbiologist) and PATPI (Indonesian Food Technologist), as well as BPOM. All information, including the registration is published in our website (CEMyCoS.tp.ugm.ac.id and also website available of PERMI and PATPI.
